

Table of Contents

List of Abbreviations	XI
Introduction	XIII
The Penalty of Life Imprisonment in the Light of European Penitentiary Statistics (Beata Gruszczyńska)	1
Introduction	1
I. Prison map of Europe – basic statistical data	2
II. Women among those imprisoned in European countries.....	6
III. Those sentenced to life imprisonment in European prisons	9
Conclusions	13
Life Prisoners Before the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg (Ewa Dawidziuk, Andrij Kosylo, Maria Nielaczna)	15
Introduction	15
I. International papers on life and long-term prisoners	20
II. Proceedings with lifers and the execution of the life imprisonment in freedom from the Committee’s perspective. Findings and guidelines	32
1. Criticised and unjustified solutions adopted in law or practice	34
2. Guidelines for state authorities, including for specific prison authorities, how to deal with lifelong and long-term prisoners	35
3. Values that should be an integral part of any penitentiary system.....	38
III. A statistical image of life prisoner issues recognised by the ECtHR	39
1. Methodology.....	40
2. Violation of Art. 3 of the Convention.....	52
3. Violation of Art. 5 of the Convention.....	56
4. Violation of Art. 6 of the Convention.....	58
5. Violation of Art. 7 of the Convention.....	62
6. Violation of Art. 8 of the Convention.....	63
7. Violation of Art. 9 of the Convention.....	65
8. Violation of Art. 13 of the Convention.....	65
9. Violation of Art. 14 of the Convention.....	68

Table of Contents

10. Violation of Art. 34 of the Convention.....	70
11. Violation of Art. 3 of Protocol No. 1.....	71
IV. Chronology of cases of life-long prisoners before the ECtHR.....	71
1. Period of 1962–1999.....	72
2. Period 2000–2010.....	73
3. Period 2011–2016.....	75
4. Origin and development of the “right to hope”	77
V. The penalty of life imprisonment – identical or specific problems?.	85
Conclusions	86
Justification of the Sentence of Life Imprisonment (On the Procedural Issue of the Sentence of Life Imprisonment) (Antoni Bojańczyk)	93
Introduction	93
I. Admissibility of the appropriate application of the death penalty directives to the sentence of life imprisonment	95
II. Special requirements for justifying the sentence of death penalty in the Supreme Court 1932–1939.....	97
III. Adapting the specific requirements of the court’s motivation for the death penalty to the justification of sentences serving the sentence of life imprisonment	99
IV. The procedural nature of the negative criminological forecast formulated in the justification of a sentence to life imprisonment. The final of the forecast. The issue of “double” criminological forecasts.....	103
Conclusions	106
Judicial-Psychological Opinions of Murderers Sentenced to Life Imprisonment (Maria Gordon)	109
Introduction	109
I. Preface	110
II. Standards of psychological assessment of perpetrators of killings...	111
1. Psychological diagnosis.....	112
2. Diagnostic methods.....	114
3. The subject of psychological diagnosis in cases of murder.....	115
4. Motivation for killings in the literature	117
5. Forensic-psychological opinions and the issue of the perpetrator’s sanity.....	120
6. Psychological diagnosis of a perpetrator acting in a group	121
III. The practice of judicial-psychological opinions based on the analysis of 102 opinions issued in cases of those sentenced to life imprisonment.....	122

Table of Contents

1. Research material.....	122
2. Criminological characteristics of perpetrators of killings.....	123
3. Psychological-psychiatric characteristics of perpetrators.....	126
4. Diagnosis of the motivational processes of 102 perpetrators of murder.....	134
5. Explanation of the psychological mechanisms of acting in a group.....	135
6. Applied research methods.....	138
Summary and conclusions.....	141
The Oldest Perpetrators of Crimes Sentenced to Life Imprisonment – Profiles, Punishment Policy and the Penitential Aspect (Teodor Bulenda, Joanna Klimczak, Dagmara Woźniakowska-Fajst)	147
Introduction.....	147
I. Characteristics of the offender.....	151
1. Previous penalty.....	151
2. Criminal action.....	154
3. Parallel cases.....	155
4. Criminal and legal reaction.....	155
II. Case studies.....	156
1. Murder for 20 PLN.....	165
2. Murder for love?.....	169
3. In cold blood.....	175
4. Assault with escape.....	179
5. A fatal mistake.....	183
6. Satanic idea of insurance fraud.....	186
Conclusions.....	190
Young Killers Sentenced to Life Imprisonment – Silhouette, Deed, Sentencing Policy (Teodor Bulenda, Joanna Klimczak, Dagmara Woźniakowska-Fajst)	191
Introduction.....	191
I. Characteristics of the perpetrators.....	193
1. Education and employment of perpetrators.....	197
2. The perpetrators’ previous penalty.....	199
II. Description of the crime.....	200
1. Modus operandi.....	200
2. Motives of the perpetrators.....	203
3. Profile of the wronged person.....	213
III. Punishment Policy.....	217

Table of Contents

1. Punishment during two legal regimes	218
2. Status of the young person	218
3. Crimes that are subject to punishment	219
4. Parallel cases	220
5. Judgment, legal qualification of murder, justification of sentences	221
6. Conditional early release – stricter restrictions	223
7. Appeal against the judgment – remedies	225
7.1. Appeal	225
7.2. Cassation	226
7.3. Resumption of proceedings.....	227
8. Criminal measures and other means.....	227
9. Punishing co-participants – accomplices.....	228
10. Rationalisation of the punishments – justification of the sentences handed down	229
Conclusions	239
Women – Killers. Women Sentenced to Life Imprisonment in Poland (Barbara Błońska, Maria Ejchart-Dubois)	297
Introduction	297
I. Subject matter, research methods.....	299
II. Criminal profiles of the women studied, description of their deeds	300
1. M.O.	300
2. M.Sz.	302
3. M.R.	304
4. A.C.-M.	305
5. G.K.	306
6. G.Sz.	307
7. A.P.	308
8. E.S.	309
9. A.K.	310
10. E.M.	311
III. Criminological characteristics of the women examined	313
1. The characteristics of women sentenced to life imprisonment against the background of previous investigations of women’s homicide	313
2. The families, early childhood of the women studied	318
3. An attempt at criminological classification	329
IV. Why the life sentence? Conclusion	350

Table of Contents

1. Leadership	352
2. Lack of remorse, no admission of guilt	353
3. Obstruction of the investigation, lack of cooperation with the court	354
4. Special characteristics and personal conditions of the perpetrators.....	355
5. Particularly brutal murder/the manner of committing it	356
6. Motivation deserving special condemnation	357
7. “For life”	358
8. The victim	359
9. Violation of taboos.....	360
10. Retaliation and revenge	361
11. The eliminational nature of the penalty	361
Conclusions	364
Article 77 § 2 CC, i.e. the Sentence to the “Death Penalty” During the Execution of the Penalty of Deprivation of Liberty (Stefan Lelental)	367
Introduction	367
I. Application of Art. 77 § 2 CC by the courts.....	371
Conclusions	377
“Not to Have a Life ...”? How do Lifers Talk About Their Punishment? Analysis of the Contents of the 142 Questionnaires Completed by Offenders Sentenced to Life Imprisonment (Magdalena Brodzińska-Patalas, Magdalena Natorska, Maria Nielaczna, Aleksandra Anna Osińska)	381
Introduction	381
I. Purpose and content of the penalty of life imprisonment from the perspective of the convict.....	385
1. The purpose as such	385
2. A positive or a negative goal?	391
3. The meaning of preparing for life in jail or outside, and the purpose of life imprisonment.....	395
4. The goal of executing life imprisonment and the perspective of time	400
5. Does the goal affect the acceptance of guilt or vice versa?.....	402
6. Objectives of implementing life imprisonment and everyday life	403
7. Definition of the purpose of executing life imprisonment, and the definition of self.....	405
II. The relationship of offenders to the guilt assigned by the court	414

Table of Contents

III. Allies and enemies. Is there a chance to trust?	425
IV. Freedom and hope.....	432
Summary and synthesis of survey analysis.....	436
A Questionnaire	443